

NANCY WARD HEARS
FROM FRENCH ORPHANChapter Secures $2,500 in Pledges for Third Liberty Loan.

As a result of the liberty bond campaign among members of the Nancy Ward chapter, D. A. R., with Mrs. Ward as chapter chairman, it was announced at the meeting held with the regent, Mrs. T. E. Abernathy, that $2,500 had been secured in pledges. Miss Sarah Frazier had charge of the program. Mrs. F. B. Martin gave an interesting account of "The Last Days of the Revolution" and Miss Sarah Frazier read a paper on "Naval Heroes" and Mrs. S. O. Bankson gave a reading entitled "Young Fellow, My Lad."

Mrs. John R. Pittner told of her trip to Washington, D. C., and gave a very graphic description of what the women of the national chapter had done to aid in the sale of liberty bonds. It was decided that the chapter would devote one day at the Red Cross booths which are to be opened on the main business corners for the purpose of selling liberty bonds. Mrs. Thomas F. Walker was appointed general chairman of the booths. Mrs. Rose of Atlanta was a visitor, and upon request told of how her chapter had made an alphan with the flags of the allied nations knitted in the center.

The forest flowers, dogwood and honeysuckle, decorated the home. Fruit punch was served by Miss Elizabeth Kropp.

A hospital committee was named by Miss Sarah Frazier as follows: Mesdames D. M. Steward, W. C. Johnson, F. B. Martin, J. H. Atwater, C. L. Carter, E. A. Brown and Jesse C. Henderson; Miss Elizabeth Stoops and Miss Nellie Behm.

Miss Mayma Nixon read a letter from the mother of a little French orphan which was adopted by the chapter last year, in which she expressed her thanks and the child's delight for the Christmas box sent by the chapter.

Following the song cycle, interpretive dances representing the four seasons were given, the stage being cleared for the occasion. Miss Winifred Stansfield, in a white robe decorated with roses and wearing a rose wreath, danced as a ring to the music of Mendelssohn's spring song. Tiny Frances Powell, in a spangled frock of white tulle, danced as summer.

Miss Harriet Barnes gave a refined bacchanal with grapes and autumn leaves to the music of MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose." Miss Della Mader, in tulle and silver, danced in interpretation of "winter."

Unique Refreshments.

Artistic booths, representing the four seasons, were arranged on two sides of the auditorium. In the booth of spring hung green vines, ice cream was served. The summer booth, decorated in pink roses, held an attractive table of charlotte russe. In the autumn booth hung in scarlet leaves were rosy-cheeked apples and delicious cake, while in the booth expressive of winter were hot coffee and pumpkin balls. It was announced that several of the balls contained gift stamps.

Dr. Loaring Clark was in charge of the evening making the program an uproar. Miss Mary W. Hatcher, soprano; Miss Marguerite McWhorter, alto; Mr. J. Victor Golbart, tenor; Mr. Luke C. Marvin, basso. Prof. Schmidt was piano accompanist and gave as a prelude instructive explanation concerning the work of Chattanooga and the construction of the song-cycle. The advent of spring, its lights and shadows, the voices of April and May with showers and flowers, were pictured in polished verse, set to music of a high interpretive character, carrying impressively an idea of the varying moods of the season. The voices were beautiful, blended in many quartets, trios and duets, each part being also exemplified in artistic solos. The production betokened ex-

VEILS, TOO, GO OVER THE TOP

To don one's veil and hat with a single celebrated "oddy" feminine movement" must be a delight to the mover—and the result is certainly pleasant to see as sketched by an artist for Fashion Art. The basis of this millinery connection—if anything, so airy can have so solid a characteristic as basis—is navy blue millan in modified tricorn shape. It is edged with infinitesimal pink roses and the enveloping veils of brown tulle, three layers, firmly caught to the crown.

"WHAT SHOULD BE DONE WITH MEN WHO STEAL SOLDIERS' WIVES"

(By Winona Wilcox.)
When Prof. W. L. Thomas, aged 55, induced pretty Mrs. R. M. Granger, aged 23, to forget her soldier-husband, he opened for the United States a new kind of war problem.

What should be done with a civilian who steals a soldier's wife? In England a jury acquitted a certain army officer who killed his wife's best friend. But the wife Atlantic, not the narrow channel, separates the wronged American soldier from his rival. The primitive personal form of vengeance is out of the question. Society at large is left to deal with the offender.

And society, doubtless, should deal with this first case so stringently that it will deter similar adventures into the realm of illegal romance.

Strictly does not mean violently. The way to punish the knave is not to kill him, but to see that he lives on in equal force.

of Charleston, S. C. The ceremony was performed at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, which was made unusually attractive by a profusion of lovely young flowers.

An altar of snowballs and greens lighted with cathedral candles, made a beautiful background for the wedding party. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Mrs. A. B. Rainey, pianist, and Mrs. H. D. Brown, violinist, came Miss Inez Peak, of Cedartown, and Mrs. E. B. Rockwell, of Selma, bearing pink and white tulle, which formed the aisle from the living room to the parlor, followed by the maid of honor, Miss Helen Taylor, who was a picture of loveliness in pink, carrying Killarney roses. Then came the bride and groom. The bride was unusually attractive in a suit of gray, with hat, shoes and gloves to match, and wearing a corsage of orchids and valley lilies. They were met at the altar by Rev. Robert H. Orr, who performed the impressive ceremony, the ring service being used.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. Mrs. Taylor, wearing a gown of purple satin, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. L. H. Lamb, Misses Cobble Mae Dean and Sophie Hughes, of Rome.

With a shower of congratulations and good wishes Mr. and Mrs. Whistnant left for a short wedding trip, after which they will be at home in Charleston, S. C., where the groom holds a responsible position.

Miss Haynes, of Ohio, Weds
Soldier of Fort Oglethorpe

A pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Ryerson, 513 Maple street. The contracting parties were Miss Florence G. Haynes, of Cambridge, O., and Private W. E. Baldwin, of the Fourth Field Hospital, Camp Greenleaf, Fort Oglethorpe. The groom's best man was Lieut. A. G. Dunbar, of the evacuation hospital, Fort Oglethorpe. The matron of honor was Mrs. A. G. Dunbar. The house was prettily decorated. A color scheme of pink and white with patriotic emblems predominated. The wedding party marched in to the drawing rooms to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride was groomed in becoming blue, color scheme and wore a corsage of sweet peas. The matron of honor wore a cream taffeta gown and wore corsage of sweet peas. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. Dr. C. A. Waterfield, army secretary of Y. M. C. A. After the ceremony the guests were served with light refreshments.

M. B. CLUB STUDIES
NEVIN AND MAC DOWELL

Mrs. Boyd Hargraves was hostess at a meeting of the M. B. Club at her home in Ridgedale. Mrs. Laycock was joint hostess. The home was attractively decorated with bouquets of roses. Mrs. Charles Lowry, vice-president, was in charge of the business session in the absence of Mrs. W. F. Langley. The program dealt with the compositions of Ethelbert Nevin and Edward MacDowell. A number of selections were given. There were twenty-five members present. Following the program an ice course was served. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Margaret Duncan on Duncan avenue, with Mrs. Frank Miller joint hostess.

The president and Col. E. T. Brown, of Atlanta, played golf yesterday morning at a suburban club, says the Washington Post.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, accompanied by her mother and sister, Mrs. Bolling and Miss Bolling, attended the "fashion fete" given yesterday and last evening for the benefit of the A. B. F. Fund for blinded sailors and soldiers. Mme. Da Gamma, wife of the Brazilian ambassador; Mme. De Riano, wife of the Spanish ambassador, a Countess Reading, wife of the British ambassador, were also visitors there.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Common garden Sage and Sulphur makes streaked, faded or gray hair dark and youthful at once.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You simply wash your hair with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy as you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease. (Adv.)

of an afternoon party Thursday afternoon at the home of the former, honoring Mrs. C. B. Felt, a recent bride. The affair was in the nature of a miscellaneous shower.

A color note of green and white was observed in the decorations and ices. The chosen flowers were snowballs and narcissi.

During the afternoon the guests made a sofa pillow, which was presented to the honoree. A musical program was also given. The guests numbered twenty.

Men are kept easily to the path of decency by fear of "what people will say." To be sneered at for disloyalty to human ideals is the crowning humiliation to a man of brains, as Prof. Thomas is said to be. To be condemned as weak of will will corrode the emotional life of a man of books.

There's nothing like publicity to strip the glory from an affinity case and degrade it to the ordinary vulgar passion.

Notoriety, widespread, merciless gossip eat the heart out of this kind of a romance.

As a penalty it surpasses lynching; as a deterrent for vagrant love there is no equal force.

Thirty-five ladies attended the meeting of the Ridgedale Red Cross auxiliary Thursday, which was held at the K. of P. hall.

With the buzz of seven sewing machines and the busy workers, cutting, basting and hemming bed jackets, one would think that they had stepped into a real sewing shop.

A membership committee was appointed, with Mrs. Claude Holland and Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Read compose the committee.

It was reported that nearly 500 pledge cards had been signed, which means that persons signing the cards agree to pay 25 cents per month for four months. By this plan the auxiliary will receive $125 each month, which will be used in purchasing material for making hospital garments.

Beginning next Thursday, the members will sew all day instead of only afternoons. The hours will be 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

It was reported that Mrs. H. C. Warwick, president, had volunteered her services for Red Cross work. It is not known just what department she will be assigned to.

NATIONAL PRESIDENT
WRITES TO W. C. T. U.

To not only aid in the liberty bond campaign, but to double the own interest, was the advice given in a letter from Miss Anna Gordon, national president of the W. C. T. U., to the local union. Mrs. W. E. Wheelock, president of the Chattanooga W. C. T. U., read the letter at the regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the Frances Willard. A letter was also received from the national child welfare committee asking the support of their work and co-operation with the Council of National Defense in patriotic work.

Mrs. T. C. Ervin and Mrs. I. Lewis Clark were appointed to take charge of the regulars of war work.

The Scripture lesson was read by Miss Ellen Spears.

Talks were given by Mrs. W. E. Wheelock, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Miss Ellen Spears, Mrs. Miss Alice Oliver, Miss Eleanor Potts gave a vocal selection, accompanied by Mrs. W. E. Wheelock. Several visitors were present.

and are said in the evidence accompanying to be the index and third fingers, or "trigger fingers," cut off, it is alleged, to make it impossible for the young man to be of service in the trenches. Phillips, it is said, had been married only a few months. He is a country boy, if convicted of having wilfully maimed himself for the purpose of evading military service, a heavy fine and sentence await him.

Gen. Ben G. McKenzie, of Dayton, who represents young Phillips, states that he knows the young man; that he is of good character and repute in his home county, and that he does not believe him capable of the charges against him. Besides, he is a left-handed man, and it would not have been necessary to sever the fingers of a hand that was practically useless from a military standpoint. Gen. McKenzie says he believes there is nothing in the charges.

Evade Draft.

In the prosecution of Rector Phillips, of Rhea county, charged with having cut off two fingers of his right hand for the purpose of disqualifying himself for military service, a unique feature was developed. What was alleged to be fingers of Phillips reached the court in an unsealed envelope, with no mark on the covering to indicate what was within. The fingers were blackened but well preserved. They are from the right hand.

This Skin Peeler All
The Rage in Society

There is a growing tendency among women of culture and fashion to pay more attention to hygienic means of preserving their charms. The advent of mercurized wax doubtless has been largely responsible for this. This remarkable substance produces complexion so natural in appearance, so magnificently beautiful, artificial complexions are no longer desired. Instead of "doctoring" an offensive skin, the skin is peeled off. The wax peels the skin so gradually, in such fine particles, no discomfort is experienced. The fresher, younger skin beneath, wholly in evidence within a week or two, is lily white, satiny soft and smooth. It's not a patched-over complexion, but a brand new one. That's why mercurized wax has become such a rage among society folk. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings. All druggists have it; one ounce will do.—(Adv.)
